

Mary Jo Rugwell

BLM Wyoming State Director

Mary Jo Rugwell is the state director for the Bureau of Land Management in Wyoming. Mary Jo has worked for the Bureau of Land Management for thirty years in a variety of positions including team lead, assistant field manager, field manager, district manager and associate state director in a variety of locations in Wyoming, New Mexico and Nevada. She has a bachelor's degree in business and management from Chapman University and a master's degree in public administration from the University of Wyoming. Mary Jo enjoys visiting all of the amazing public lands administered by the BLM in Wyoming and around the country. She also enjoys crafts, decorating, concerts, plays, sporting events and being a grandmother!